What Does It Mean to Rededicate Oneself?

Recommitment or rededication of one's life implies a prior experience of commitment/ dedication. Many believers at one or another time in their faith journey feel the need to actively, openly, outwardly recommit their lives to Jesus. Renewal is part of the ongoing journey of the faithful and believer of Jesus, not just the backslidden and repentant. Therefore, we give thanks for Jesus, His willingness to give up heaven and come to Earth, His ministry of teaching and healing, His sacrificial death on the cross, and His resurrection which conquered death once for all. Only by grace do we come in faith, trusting that in and through His life, death, and resurrection, we have access to all the blessings and promises of God: covenant relationship, merciful forgiveness, new life, ministry of the one Gospel, and eternal life in the Kingdom. We acknowledge our common need and desire to draw near to God by following Jesus.

A Prayer of Recommitment

Loving God, having affirmed our faith in Jesus your son, we give thanks for all the blessings that come to the church, his body on earth. We confess, O God, that we are guilty of Sin. We have done what we ought not, and have failed to do what we knew you asked of us. Grant us your forgiveness according to your promised mercy, as we grow in understanding and ability to forgive others, and this too by your grace. Allow us an awareness of your presence in these moments, as we come for recommitment to a life of faithful discipleship. Amen.
